

One-Day Awareness Workshop on Outcome Based Education (NBA/NAAC)
in collaboration with IKG PTU, Jalandhar
(17th February 2018)

Global Institute of Management and Emerging Technologies organized a One-Day Awareness Workshop on Outcome Based Education (NBA/NAAC) in collaboration with IKG PTU, Jalandhar on 17th February 2018.

The expert Dr. Akshay Girdhar conducted the workshop for teachers from engineering colleges from the cluster of Amritsar and Tarn Taran for creating awareness about the assessment and accreditation process of NBA and NAAC.

In his first session, Dr. Akshay Girdhar dwelled on the basics of TIER-I and TIER –II institutions in Indian Scenario. He also gave detailed information about accreditation cycle.

The second session was devoted to the detailed discussion of the preparation of SAR. He started with Vision and Mission of the department and of the institute. Then, he moved on to how to implement Outcome Based Education. As students need to be industry ready, he clarified that an engineer should be T-Shaped i.e. the vertical and horizontal aspects of engineering should be known to an engineer.

Earlier Dr. Akshay Girdhar was welcomed by Vice Chairman Dr. Akashdeep Singh and Director Dr. Rajesh Goel. While introducing the learned speaker and the theme of the workshop, Dr. Goel observed that NBA and NAAC assessments bring about a qualitative change in the work culture of the institute that opts for it. Dr. Goel also thanked Dr. E. S. Johal, Deputy Registrar (Academics) IKGPTU for nominating Global Institutes for conduction such workshop.
