

NITTTR Sponsored STC on “Cloud Computing”

The Department of Computer Science & Engineering of Global Institute of Management & Emerging Technologies, Amritsar organized a 1 - week Faculty Development Programme on “Cloud Computing” in collaboration with NITTTR, Chandigarh. This was a cluster umbrella programme in which 31 colleges from all over India participated in this educational venture conducted through ICT. Dr. C. Rama Krishna, Professor and Head, NITTTR, Chandigarh and Er. Mala Kalra coordinated the various sessions. In all, 13 special expert talks on different important aspects of Cloud Computing took place. Fifty three (53) teachers attended the FDP at Global Institute of Management & Emerging Technologies, Amritsar, including 6 participants from other institutions.

NITTTR had also invited subject experts from well- known MNCs like Infosys and IBM for interaction with the faculty. The FDP proved to be very useful for the teachers. Also, the experts not only dealt with certain areas from their course of study but also discussed various research issues in the field.
