

Lohri Celebrations at Global Institutes

The students and staff of Global Institutes celebrated Lohri festival with traditional fervour. When the feeble wintry sun went down in the west, the Honorable Chairman of Global Institutes lighted the huge pile of wood in the vast compound to commence the symbolic bonfire. Handful of “Reori, Mungfali and Popcorns” were offered for worship of the bonfire “Lohri Mata” and distributed among the assembled students and the members of staff. The students presented a very hilarious and cultural programme. It consisted of liting Songs, Jokes, Mimes, Giddha and Bhangra. Groups of students also sang “sunder mundriye ho.....”. Most of the faculty members joined the celebration with their family members. The exciting party came to an end on a happy note of extreme joy and thrill. It was a memorable evening for all.
