

Vice – Chairman Visits Arkansas State University (USA)

To further strengthen and explore new avenues in educational linkages with reputed institutions of higher education, Vice – Chairman Dr. Akashdeep Singh is visiting USA and Canada. In Arkansas State University, he held discussions with Dr. Paul Mixon, Dean Engineering and Dr. Jim Washam, Dean Business Administration in this connection. The University will develop transferable skills among the students which will enhance their ability to achieve professional success in this competitive era. These linkages will ensure a dynamic interaction of students to an international exposure. Companies now – a – days need young people who are technically sound, resilient, good communicators and understand how to work as a part of team. Therefore, it is a vital to proactively build a pipeline of young talent who will go on to become the next generation of business leaders and entrepreneurs. It will inspire young people with exciting career prospects. Dr. Akashdeep Singh, Vice – Chairman was taken to a Campus tour of the University by Ms. Dodie Peterson where he was shown different departments and the laboratories of the University.
